By road

From the A325, A331, A31 (London) and the M3. At the Shepherd & Flock roundabout, continue along the Farnham bypass and at the Coxbridge roundabout take the third exit signposted for Farnham town centre. Follow this road across a mini roundabout and take the next left, turn into Crondall Lane at the VW garage. Continue along this road for about 2 and a half miles into open countryside. The hospital is situated on the right, on a sharp left handed bend, just before the village of Crondall.

By rail

The nearest National Rail train station is Farnham and to complete your journey we recommend that you use a taxi. Numerous local taxi services operate from outside the station and the journey to the hospital is about 10 minutes.
